Area Overview

The Village of New Norway was named after Scandinavian settlers who homesteaded in the area. The area was once called Olstad District because originally the majority of land in the area was owned by the Olstads. The settlement started in 1885, one mile east of the present townsite. With the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway coming through in 1910, it was more convenient to have the businesses closer to the railroad. In the fall of 1909, the buildings were moved to the present townsite. By 1910, New Norway was a booming young town.
